6. FORMAT AND CONDITIONS OF THE TOURNAMENT

The matches of the Tournament are played according to the Laws of the Game of Football, approved by the International Council of Football Associations (TFAB) June 2019, as well as taking into account the requirements of this procedure.

The draw for the teams participating in the Tournament is held by GSK no later than May 20, 2022. The format of the tournament is 11x11. The tournament is held in two stages: the group stage and the playoffs.

Preliminary stage: the teams are drawn by lot into two groups of four teams, which in a single round-robin tournament determine the participants in the final stage - two teams from each group. The 2nd final stage is played according to the principle 1 A -2B, 2 A -1B. If the match ended in a draw in regulation time, the series immediately breaks through from the 11-meter mark according to the rules of the game. In the case of a draw here, too, strikes are made from the 11-meter mark by one player of each team to the result. Substitutions: An unlimited number of substitutions are allowed during a match. Yellow cards received at the 1st stage are excluded in the final stage. Red cards in accordance with the Regulations are retained.

Final stage: final.

The final e meets:

1st group winner - 2nd group winner

The runners-up teams in their groups play for 3rd place.

At the preliminary stage of the competition, the duration of the game is two halves of 30 minutes.

At the final stage - two halves of 30 minutes each. Break for 10 minutes. Substitutions: in the final stage of substitutions, the same as in subgroups. 11 + 7. During the match, 7 substitutions are allowed without the right to reverse substitution.

The tournament is held at the stadium in Moscow: JSC Luzhniki (Luzhniki st., 24) .

Team representatives 40 minutes before the start of the match enter the names and names of the players in the match report, indicating their numbers. The team that hosts the field according to the calendar fills in the match report first.

The appointment of referees for the matches is carried out by the Organizing Committee. The chief referee of the match must, before the start of the game, together with representatives of the meeting teams, determine the colors of the uniform (shirts, shorts, leggings and goalkeeper's uniform) in such a way as to exclude their coincidence. If the colors match, the team named second in the tournament calendar will change its uniform.

After the end of the game, the representatives of the teams and the chief referee of the match are obliged to draw up the protocol of the game within 10 minutes. If during the game there were warnings, sending-offs and injuries of football players, as well as violations of order at the stadium, then the chief referee of the match must make an exhaustive record of this in the protocol before it is signed by the team representatives.

Protests against the referee's decision made on the field based on facts that took place in the game are not accepted. Football players and team leaders participating in the tournament must comply with all the requirements of the Laws of the Game and these Regulations. Team leaders do not have the right to interfere with the actions of the match referees, they are fully responsible for the behavior of their team's players.

If the game was stopped due to the unruly behavior of the players of one of the teams, then this team is credited with a defeat with a score of 0-3, and the opposing team is awarded a victory with a score of 3-0. In the event of a greater goal difference, the result of the match remains valid.

If the game is not over due to the fault of both teams, then they will be considered defeated with a score of 0-3.

During the tournament, the following disciplinary sanctions will be imposed on players:

If removed from the field:

- for two warnings in one game - skipping one game
- for "foul of last resort" - skipping one game;

For other disciplinary sanctions related to the removal of players, the decision is made by the Organizing Committee. The refereeing of the tournament is carried out by the judges of the Moscow Collegium of Judges of the RPO "Moscow Football Federation" and the Russian Football Union .

Refereeing is carried out in accordance with the current Laws of the Game of Football (3rd March 2017 edition) . All footballers must wear shin guards and have a neat appearance . The player's number on the jersey must correspond to the number under which this player is recorded in the application.

Team coaches must enter the names of the players in the protocol 4 5 minutes before the start of the match. The names and surnames of 18 football players (11 main and 7 substitutes) and 2 official representatives of the teams are entered into the match report . In each match, it is allowed to replace 7 players from the number of substitutes included in the match report. The team named first according to the calendar - the nominal hostess of the field, fills in the match report first.

Warm-up of substitute players is allowed only in the area defined by the match referee. Places of teams are determined by the highest sum of points scored in all matches (victory - 3 points, draw - 1 point, defeat - 0 points).

In the subgroup, in case of equality of points, 2 or more teams have. Add the smallest number of conceded balls among themselves further in the subgroup. The smallest number of penalty points received for violation of the Laws of the Game yellow card 1 point, red card 5 points. In case of equality of points for two or more teams following the results of the group stage matches, the advantage is given to the team that has:

Most wins in all matches in a group;

- The best result in the match between the compared teams (in order - the number of points, the number of wins, the best difference between goals scored and conceded, more goals scored, the least conceded goals.);
- The best difference between goals scored and conceded in all matches;
- Most goals scored in all matches;
- Fewest conceded goals in all group matches;
- Least number of penalty points received for violation of the Laws of the Game

(yellow card -1 point, red card-5 points);

In case of equality of all indicators by lot .

7. RESPONSIBILITY OF FOOTBALL PLAYERS AND TEAM LEADERS

Football players and heads of teams participating in the tournament must comply with all the requirements and norms of these Regulations, while showing high discipline, respect for opponents, referees and spectators. The team leaders have no right to interfere with the actions of the match officials. In addition, they are responsible to the Organizing Committee for the conduct of their team's players. If the game was stopped due to the unruly behavior of the players of one of the teams, then this team is considered defeated.

8. REFEREEING AND INSPECTION OF MATCHES

The refereeing of the tournament matches is carried out in accordance with the Rules of the Game. The appointment of referees for the matches is made by the Moscow Collegium of Referees of the ROO of the Moscow Football Federation. The match referee, together with the team leaders, is responsible for observing the rules for admitting football players to the game. The match referee is obliged to:

- Inspect the football field in advance, assess its quality and suitability for the match.
- 1 hour before the start of the match, provide the team representatives with the match report to enter the names and surnames of the players, as well as compare the colors of the uniforms of the field players and the goalkeepers of the teams in order to exclude their coincidence.
- Draw up the match report within 15 minutes after its end. If during the match there were warnings, sending-offs and injuries of football players, as well as violations of order at the stadium, the match referee is obliged to make an exhaustive record of this in the protocol before it is signed by the team representatives.

The Moscow Collegium of Judges of the ROO of the Moscow Football Federation considers official protests (with the exception of protests against the decisions of the referee made on the field on the fact that took place in the match) submitted only within 45 minutes after the end of the match. Protests are considered only if they are submitted in simple written form to the Moscow Collegium of Judges of the ROO of the Moscow Football Federation.

Heads and other team officials have no right to interfere with the actions of the match referees, they are fully responsible for the behavior of their team's players.

Teams' requests to replace the referees assigned to the match will not be accepted.

The Organizing Committee ensures that the Tournament has the equipment necessary for the referee, assistant referees and reserve referee for the proper performance of their duties.

The final protocols of the Competition are provided by the Chief Secretary of the Competition in paper and electronic form within 3 days from the end of the Competition in Moskomspor.

9. DISCIPLINARY SANCTIONS

For violations committed before, during and after the end of the game, the following disciplinary sanctions are applied to national teams, football players and officials of the Moscow Collegium of Judges of the ROO of the Moscow Football Federation:

- Warnings;
- Disqualification.

If the match is abandoned due to the undisciplined behavior of the players of one of the teams, this team is awarded a technical defeat with a score of 0: 3, and the opposing team is awarded a victory with a score of 3: 0. In the event of a greater goal difference, the result of the match remains valid.

If an undeclared or disqualified footballer participates in a match, the team for which he is playing is awarded a technical defeat with a score of 0: 3, and the opposing team is awarded a victory with a score of 3: 0. If the match is not finished due to the fault of both teams, they will be counted for technical defeats with a score of 0: 3.

When a team is awarded a technical victory (3: 0), the goals scored by the players of this team in the played match (s), the result (s) of which was (s) then (s) was (s) canceled (s), are not taken into account in their individual standings.

In relation to football players during the Tournament, disqualification is applied for misdemeanors committed during the matches:
